Wholesale Prices Up In October

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wholesale prices leaped 1.8 per cent in October, the biggest monthly rise in a year, the government reported today. The jump indicated that inflation remains a serious problem.

Price tags on new model cars, lumber and textile products were particularly significant in raising prices last month, but the increases were spread almost across the board, the Labor Department said. Farm prices also were up sharply but still about half the rise in September.

October's increase in the wholesale price index followed gains of six-tenths of a per cent in September and eight-tenths of a per cent in August and was the sharpest rise since October, 1974 when wholesale prices rose 2.9 per cent.

With a new spurt at the wholesale level, consumers can expect a substantial rise in the cost of living in the months ahead as changes in wholesale prices eventually show up in retail stores.

Over the last three months, wholesale prices rose at an annual rate of 13.5 per cent, up from a 6 per cent rate in the May-July quarter. However, the rate was still less than half the 29.6 per cent rate the three months ended last October before the recession slowed inflation.

Wholesale prices last month were 5.1 per cent higher than a year ago. The index moved up to 178.9, meaning it cost $178.90 in October to buy the same goods at wholesale which sold for $100 in the 1967 base period.

Farm prices rose 2.2 per cent last month, a sharp rate but still significantly less than the 4.3 per cent increase in September. This put farm prices 5.2 per cent above a year ago.

The sharpest increases in agriculture were for live poultry, leaf tobacco and fluid milk. Prices for fresh and dried vegetables dropped in October, while livestock and plant and animal fibers rose much less than in the previous month.

Farm prices fluctuate erratically from month to month. Thus, economists consider industrial prices a more reliable barometer of basic inflationary trends. In this category the news was not good.

Industrial prices jumped 1.2 per cent in October, up from seven-tenths of a per cent in September and three times the amount of increases recorded during the summer months. They have been accelerating since last March.

A substantial rise in industrial prices at such an early stage in the recovery from the recession has aroused concern among economists over the strength of the recovery.

Second In Current Audubon Series To Be Presented At Murray State Tonight

Thomas A. Sterling will present a film and lecture entitled "Twentieth Century Wilderness" at Murray State University tonight as the second in a series of five programs presented by the National Audubon Society during the year.

Scheduled at 7 p. m. in the auditorium of the University School, the lecture-film sponsored by the Department of Biological Sciences is open to the public at no admission charge.

A full length color motion picture (approximately 90 minutes), the Audubon Wildlife Film features many varieties of wilderness habitats and inhabitants.

Sterling introduces viewers to the rare greater sandhill crane with spectacular close-ups of the elusive bird in the micro-wilderness environments of southern Michigan. The film follows the migrating crane to Florida, where that unique wonderland, the Everglades, and many of its indigenous residents are threatened with extinction.

Several animals — the extremely rare black-footed ferret, the bison, pronghorn, and coyote — strike a tenuous ecological balance with the soil in the less well-known "prairie wilderness" shown in the film.

Yellowstone National Park, a mountain wilderness, is also featured during the program. Its remnant grizzly bear population is compared with the grizzlies of Alaska, an almost untouched wilderness area.

Canyon country and high mountain areas in the Rockies and on the West Coast provide a wilderness setting for close-up visits with such creatures as the grizzly, mountain lion, prairie chicken, limpkin, golden eagle, elk, moose, caribou, bighorn sheep and others.

The film's climax is a return to the greater sandhill crane and its wilderness retreat at a high mountain ranch in southern Oregon.

Sterling, who developed a love for nature as a boy in southern Michigan, had the opportunity to film some of the most beautiful wilderness country in North America during a five-year hitch in the U. S. Air Force.

Later he enrolled at the University of Michigan and became active in addressing conservation groups and other audiences interested in environmental problems. He used his vacation periods while in school to improve his filming techniques making educational films.

Following graduation, Sterling began lecturing for the National Audubon Society and making television films. Recently he has become involved with underwater photography which he hopes will result in a new Audubon Wildlife Film on the Lake Superior wilderness.

Mrs. Eva Morris, chairman of the Creative Arts Bazaar, Mrs. Diane Johnson, publicity committee, and Mrs. Toni Hopson, bazaar committee, are shown with some of the hundreds of items that will be sold Saturday, November 8, at the Creative Arts Bazaar at the Calloway County Public Library.

Bill Extending Tax Cuts Into Next Year Meeting Final Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — This year's tax cuts would be extended into next year and, in some cases, even further into the future under legislation facing the final test in Congress' tax-writing committee.

The tax-cut plan lacks a federal spending lid that President Ford insists is necessary for his approval.

In advance of today's showdown in the House Ways and Means Committee, Chairman Al Ullman, D-Ore., said the legislation should survive the final votes, climaxing months of hearings and some fundamental questioning of the nation's tax structure.

The bill's major item is a $12.7 billion plan to continue some 1975 personal tax cuts into 1976. This amounts to an added $2.6-billion tax cut next year compared with the cuts in effect this year. The current tax cuts expire at the end of this year.

The individual tax cuts in the bill would make permanent the 1975 law's temporary hikes in minimum and maximum standard deductions and would create, just for 1976, a new tax credit of 2 per cent of the first $12,000 of annual income.

For example, the bill means that a single taxpayer with adjusted gross income of $15,000 who paid $2,549 in 1974 taxes and $2,519 in 1975 taxes would pay $2,315 in 1976 taxes, assuming deductible personal expenses of 17 per cent of income.

Using the same assumptions, the bill means a married couple with two dependents and adjusted gross income of $20,000 paid $2,660 in 1974 taxes and $2,540 in 1975 taxes and would pay $2,420 in 1976 taxes.

The bill also would extend business tax cuts of the 1975 law through 1980 for the 10 per cent increased investment tax credit and through 1977 for the temporary corporate tax rate adjustments.

The legislation would make tax benefits for child care available to more working parents, expand a tax credit system for the aged, boost taxes on higher-income individuals through changes in the so-called minimum tax on the rich and curb various tax shelters.

Nevertheless, there were signs the package might not remain intact. Either the committee, the full House or the Senate might separate the tax cuts from the proposed revisions to allow fast consideration for the cuts, thus leaving the proposed revisions for more study later.

That would concentrate the immediate battle directly on the tax cuts and Ford's demand that they be accompanied by a lid on federal spending. Repeated Republican efforts to get the Ways and Means Committee to go along with a tax cut and spending lid were crushed by Democrats.

Food Prices Expected To Increase At Slower Pace

WASHINGTON (AP) — Retail food prices are expected to increase at a much slower pace next year, but Agriculture Department experts concede this forecast depends on how livestock producers react to the grain situation.

The department released a report Wednesday predicting food price hikes of 4 to 5 per cent for 1976. USDA predictions for 1975 are holding at 9 per cent, including an expected small rise during the last quarter.

Officials cautioned that grain exports much larger than current projections could trigger another round of rising livestock feed costs. That, in turn, would delay a long-awaited expansion in livestock feeding and mean further tight supplies of grain-fed beef, pork and poultry and dairy products.

High feed prices the past couple of years have caused farmers to hold back on expanding livestock production. Basically, it has been more profitable for corn growers to sell their grain for cash — and thus to foreign countries — than feed it to animals.

Although record harvests of wheat and corn are apparent for this year, a thriving export market — including the big sales to the Soviet Union — have kept grain prices substantially higher in the face of bumper crops than they otherwise would have been.

Thus, according to USDA, the food-price chain will depend greatly on the final outcome of exports through the 1975-76 season and on how livestock producers react. Even so, the report said, the U.S. grain supply is large enough "to permit both increased livestock feeding and increased exports" in the year ahead.

For all of 1976, barring severe weather and other unforeseen calamities, food prices might go up 4 to 5 per cent, the USDA said. Current estimates predict food prices will rise about 2.5 per cent between Jan. 1 and midyear.

Gov. Carroll Free To Shape State's Destiny For Next Four Years

By SY RAMSEY
Associated Press Writer

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — While Gov. Julian Carroll goes on vacation and savors his stunning triumph over Robert Gable in the gubernatorial race, the Republican Party plans to meet and discuss the debacle.

Carroll's victory Tuesday looks impressive in every way, except for the light voter turnout.

Meantime the state GOP is in shambles — without money, without organization, without leadership and perhaps without immediate hope.

With 3,300 of 3,311 precincts reporting unofficially, the Democratic nominee for governor had 467,351 votes to 275,558 for Gable.

Carroll broke records. He exceeded the margin by which former Gov. Bert Coombs defeated a Republican rival in the 1959 governor's race. He carried the GOP stronghold of the 5th District for the first time in the memory of political observers.

Yet he failed to obtain as many votes as did former Gov. Wendell Ford in his 1971 victory. And the votes he did get would not have defeated former GOP Gov. Louie Nunn in Nunn's losing Senate race in 1972.

That is because the voter turnout is far below the normal 800,000 for a gubernatorial contest, which shows widespread apathy.

The disappointment is much worse for the Republicans, who admittedly lacked money and organization.

They now lack any important victory since their last administration ended in 1971. Since that time the GOP has sustained defeats in two gubernatorial and two Senate races.

Is anyone in charge of the Republicans these days?

Nominally it is state Sen. Clyde Middleton of Covington, the choice of Gable, who recently succeeded Charles Coy of Richmond as state Republican chairman.

But there is a vacuum in the real leadership, and neither Gable nor Nunn as defeated candidates might want to fill it.

The GOP state central committee will meet Saturday at Lexington to discuss organizational structure and tenure of party office, and undoubtedly Tuesday's disaster will be analyzed.

State GOP executive director Larry Van Hoose said the party, though "battered pretty badly these last few years," is not in danger of becoming extinct.

"The voters won't let that happen and neither will we," he commented.

Van Hoose said it was difficult for the GOP to get issues across to voters.

"We didn't have the media and we seemed to be going in different directions," he said. "There wasn't enough followup on issues."

He found it strange that the tax issue, normally controversial and close to Kentuckians' pocketbook psychology, failed to generate much response in the election.

Gable pledged a $55 million annual reduction in taxes. Carroll contended that was irresponsible and countered with a $4.5 million yearly tax cut proposal.

"The tax thing had very little impact and that is amazing in itself," Van Hoose said. "We had a legitimate plan, and if this is to be a time of economic hardship, it seems a great campaign opportunity was missed."

The anti-busing theme also fizzled. Republicans had counted on a massive backlash against incumbents because of court-ordered busing in Jefferson County, but it largely failed to materialize.

Practically the only positive result for the GOP was a gain of a few legislative seats. It will have no effect on the heavy Democratic domination of the 1976 General Assembly.

Van Hoose said he was optimistic late last week about the gubernatorial race and that Carroll's forces seemed worried.

"Obviously the Democrats did a great job in the final days," he said. "They are to be commended."

WE CHEWED $670 MILLION WORTH

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Small fry and big fry combined to spend pennies, nickles and dimes totaling more than $670 million in 1974 to satisfy their chewing habits, according to Goodyear, a rubber supplier to the gum industry.

Americans are far and away the world's leading gum consumers, masticating a yearly average of 175 pieces per person in a veritable rainbow of colored gum sticks, balls, candy-coated squares and numerous other shapes, in scores of fruity and spicy flavors.

Z. C. Enix of Enix Interiors showed the members of the Theta Department of the Murray Woman's Club through his store at the meeting held October 20. Here he discusses work in the drapery room of the store with Mrs. Gene Bailey, left, and Mrs. Laverne Burke, right. Following the tour of the store the members met at the club house for the business meeting and refreshments served by Miss Beth Broach, Mrs. Howell Thurman, Mrs. Lloyd Boyd, and Mrs. Ray Brownfield.

OUR FLAG Historical Highlights

A NEW CONSTELLATION
Continental Congress passed a resolution that established the Stars and Stripes on June 14, 1777, but did not specify the arrangement of the thirteen stars on the blue union, except to say that they should represent a new constellation. As a consequence, according to the U.S. Marine Corps Reserve, we find a variety of forms. The first flag, popularly known as the Betsy Ross flag, had them arranged in a circle, based on the idea that no colony should take precedence.

New Carport Boosts Home Value, Looks

A new carport can improve convenience, enhance design and add to the resale value of a home. But careful planning is suggested before construction begins.

Choice of materials is important. Exposed western wood framing will blend with most houses, and siding and roofing should be chosen to match.

It's important to check with building officials on height limits or property line set back restrictions.

Whenever possible, compare various brands and forms of the food before buying. For instance, when a vegetable or fruit is out of season, check the cost of the frozen and canned items as versus the fresh. Buy meat on a cost per serving basis rather than the cost per pound.

Small cans of juice, fruits, vegetables, etc. are always more costly than the larger ones. Individual packs of both prepared and cooked cereal cost much more per serving than cereal bought in larger packages.

Widow Rekindles 50-year Old Flame

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I want to get married again, but my family is against it.

You see, I met this man in 1914. We wanted to get married December of 1915, but our parents said we were too young. (I was 14 and Ruby was 18.)

World War I came along and Rudy joined the Navy. Meanwhile I married someone else and spend 54 unhappy years with him. He died three years ago and guess who suddenly came into my life again? Rudy! His wife of 51 years had died, and we discovered the old love was still there.

I am now 75, and my children don't want me to get married because they're afraid they'll lose my monthly checks. I'm sure Rudy and I can make it together. Please answer soon.

FIRST LOVE IN GALVESTON

DEAR FIRST: Your family has no right to stand in your way. If you and your first love can "make it together," the word from here is to tell your family to go jump into the Gulf of Mexico and for you to marry Rudy. Life is short. Make it sweet.

DEAR ABBY: I'm going with a terrific guy. He has everything a girl could want in a man. Looks, personality, character and money.

So, what's my problem, you ask? He's a wet kisser! I hate to mention this to him because I don't want to hurt his feelings, but if it weren't for those wet kisses, he would be perfect. Please help.

GEMINI

DEAR GEMINI: So what's wrong with telling him to dry up?

DEAR ABBY: Please tell the next reader who asks what to do about a flooded basement to call the fire department.

We help in any emergency not involving a crime: sudden illness from simple fainting to heart attacks; accidents from falling out of bed to auto collisions; electrical power failure (anything from a blown fuse to a high voltage wire that could be very dangerous).

We give emergency aid and call an ambulance, doctor or any other agency as required.

We'll even come out and check your home to make sure it's fireproof. Please spread the word, Abby. We want to help.

YOU BORN TODAY have a dynamic personality and are highly emotional, but approach life's situations from an intellectual angle. You are a born investigator and could make an outstanding success in scientific research. Even if you write — and here you have fine talents — your best work would be along scientific or technical lines. If attracted to the law, you will probably wind up as a jurist or statesman. You have a good eye for color and proportion, but may find it difficult to commercialize art. As an avocation, however, it would be an excellent outlet for your emotions. You may have a beautiful singing voice and, if so, should spare no effort to develop it. Carroll's Mandate

Gov. Julian Carroll received a strong mandate from his fellow Kentuckians in the General Election this past Tuesday, one we are certain he will be able to live up to.

We offer our congratulations to Gov. Carroll on his election to a four year term in the state-house with the knowledge that if he is able to live up to all his campaign promises he could prove to be the greatest governor the Commonwealth has ever had.

Julian Carroll is the first governor in the history of our great state to be elected from the Jackson Purchase. He has professed his strong ties to West Kentucky and Murray and we feel his brand of clean-cut politics will be an asset in Frankfort. He has already proven that since taking office in January of this year.

We also salute Mrs. Thelma Stovall on her election as the first female lieutenant governor in the state's history. Mrs. Stovall has proven her worth and dedication to the citizens of Kentucky during her 20 years of public service.

Also in line for congratulations are the other winners in the statewide races as well as the 12 very able citizens named to the Murray Common Council and the five elected to the Hazel Council.

Each citizen who was elected by his peers in Tuesday's balloting has his job cut out for him. Many times the job is thankless. But those who serve their fellow-man deserve the sincere appreciation of all of us.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Thursday, November 6, the 310th day of 1975. There are 55 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1860, Abraham Lincoln was elected the 16th president of the U.S.

On this date:

In 1792, George Washington was re-elected president.

In 1913, the British arrested Indian nationalist Mahatma Gandhi.

In 1926, Benito Mussolini prohibited all opposition parties in Italy.

In 1928, election returns showed that Herbert Hoover had defeated Alfred Smith in a hard-fought presidential contest.

In 1942, a tidal wave killed 10,000 people in India.

In 1956, Dwight Eisenhower was the winner in a presidential election, defeating Adlai Stevenson.

Ten years ago: Cuba and the U.S. agreed on an arrangement to airlift 3,000-4,000 emigrants from Cuba to the U.S. each month.

Five years ago: Italy formally recognized Communist China.

One year ago: the Soviet Union called for Palestinian statehood as part of any Middle East settlement.

Today's birthday: novelist James Jones is 54 years old.

Thought for today: Never buy what you do not want because it is cheap. — President Thomas Jefferson, 1743-1827.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, England's General William Howe reversed previous orders and said any Bostonian who wanted to leave the besieged city would be permitted to leave, because of a shortage of food and fuel.

Composer Richard Strauss took a deeper interest in the stock market than in his music. On one occasion when he was conducting the orchestra in a rehearsal of one of his compositions, a messenger from his broker came into the hall. He hurried down the aisle to the podium and placed a sheet of paper containing stock listings on the conductor's stand while the orchestra played on. Without missing a beat, Strauss studied the figures and made a few notations. Then he nodded his head and the messenger raced back up the aisle and returned to his office, where he delivered Strauss' instructions as to which stocks were to be bought or sold.

A mother whose daughter was graduating from college was complaining to her card club about the expense of it all. "At least you have the satisfaction of seeing her graduate," said one of her friends. "I know," said the mother, "but who did it get her?"

Spaying—The Basic Solution Part II

You see them along the roads or near garbage cans. Their furtive, haggard, desperate look is unmistakable. They are the "strays" dumped out of autos by their owners in the vague hope that "someone will take them in." If these callous individuals could see their own pets a few weeks later—ears half eaten off by mites; soft bodies made hard by ribs bulging through the skin; eyes dull and matted from disease; hind quarters dragging from the last stages of distemper; horrible, festering wounds inflicted by other animals and, yes, human beings—they would quickly abandon their faith that these animals can fend for themselves or that someone more thoughtful than they will care for them. The lucky ones find their way to municipal pounds where they are killed by the warden. Death, when it comes, is a blessing.

Clearly, the capacity of dogs and cats to breed far exceeds that of owners and humanitarians to find homes for them, and the situation promises to get worse as owners, feeling the pinch of inflation, decide they can no longer feed their pets. And trying to deal with the results of overpopulation, of unrestricted breeding, is like trying to refloat the Titanic without first fixing the hole in her side. How much better it would be if many of these unwanted animals were never born in the first place!

Spaying, not vague hopes that someone else will take care of excess offspring or frantic efforts to find "good" homes for them, is the basic solution to overpopulation.

What is spaying? It is a relatively simple operation performed by a veterinarian, who makes a small incision in the animal's abdomen and performs a hysterectomy on the female which makes it impossible for her to become pregnant. The animals recover quickly from the operation and are back to normal in two or three days.

"Normal?" the counter-argument begins, "doesn't spaying have undesirable effects on the animal? Doesn't it cause it to become fat and lazy?" Most experts agree that the only change in behavior noticeable in a female animal which has been spayed is the absence of disruptive behavior associated with the female in heat. If she becomes fat and lazy, it is usually a result of over-feeding, not spaying.

Another argument against spaying is that it is "contrary to nature." The female animal, some individuals maintain, needs to have a litter or two for "proper personality development." Motherhood calms them down. Again, most experts agree that giving birth to young has no beneficial effect on females, and they do not seem to notice being deprived of raising young at all.

"Oh, I always find good homes for the puppies," another owner may argue. Maybe so, but too often a "good home" is simply anyone who will take an excess kitten or pup off your hands. The phrase we all use, "getting rid of" animals is often all too descriptive! If the owner would take the trouble to follow up on the fates of the animals he "got rid of," he would find that a surprising number are no longer around—for reasons not always comforting to guess. And even if a good home is found for all the offspring, three or four times a year, there are a limited number of good homes available which is far outstripped by the almost unlimited number of good animals available. Although your animals may find homes, it means that some other animal will have to be executed at the pound.

"I want my children to experience the miracle of birth," a parent will say. "I want them to see puppies being born." It is a hard argument to counter. Often, however, when the novelty of the young wears off, these little object lessons are discarded like spelling books on the last day of school. Surely these parents should see that their children receive a complete education. Surely they will want to take them to the local pound to see the "miracle of death"—unwanted puppies and kittens being "put to sleep" by having their brains blown out by a Colt 45.

Even if one eschews humanitarian arguments for spaying—those which consider the happiness and welfare of animals—the economics of the matter alone would seem to favor spaying. By the time the conscientious owner goes through the expense of raising and finding homes for one or two litters of animals (food, advertisements, etc.), he will find that it is cheaper to pay a one-time fee for spaying! And the time to have it done is now—before the unwanted offspring begin to produce more offspring which also should be spayed!

How old must an animal be before it is spayed? Generally, a cat or dog can be spayed at approximately six months of age, or, if it has had young, about two weeks after they have been weaned. Although animals can be spayed while in heat or during pregnancy, it is best to have the operation performed before first heat. To wait longer is to invite pregnancy. And owners who decide to keep a female cat inside during heat are in for a week or ten days of constant disruption—calling, rubbing, rolling, etc. Even if you manage to outlast the cat, she will come back into heat every two or three weeks!

When you've had time to think about it thoroughly, we think you'll agree that spaying is the only effective solution to the problem of unwanted animals. Those who fear that kittens and pups will become endangered species if animals are spayed may be assured that the local Humane Society has an "in" with a wholesaler and can guarantee you a pet, if you will provide a good home for it! Please don't delay spaying your animal any longer. Please don't do it the favor of permitting it to have just one more litter. A visit to the pound will convince you!

Understanding Mental Health

The Mental Health Professionals

a health column from the

Alcohol, Drug Abuse, and Mental Health Administration
U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare

A variety of professionally trained people treat mental and emotional illnesses in private practice, in hospitals, in clinics, and in community mental health centers. They are:

• Psychiatrists, who are medical doctors who specialize in mental disorders. They must not only be licensed to practice medicine, but must also complete 3 years of specialty training.

A board-certified psychiatrist has, in addition, practiced for 2 years and passed the written and oral examinations of the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology.

Child psychiatrists specialize in working with children. Geriatric psychiatrists concentrate on helping the aged.

Of the mental health professionals, only psychiatrists can prescribe drugs and medical treatment.

• Psychiatric Social Workers. These professionals are trained in a wide range of mental health roles. Individual therapy, diagnosis, referral, consultation, and group therapy are some of the tasks they are trained to perform.

Psychiatric social workers have master's degrees in social work and have completed field-placement programs designed to train them in basic techniques in several areas, including therapy, community organization, administration, and consultation.

They are usually, but not necessarily, members of the Academy of Certified Social Workers and the National Association of Social Workers.

• Psychologists. Clinical psychologists are trained to provide therapy to individuals and groups. In addition, they are skilled in the use of diagnostic techniques to measure personality and intellectual traits.

Some specialize in child development, counseling and guidance, working with schools and schoolchildren, or in research areas.

A clinical psychologist should have a Ph.D. from a university and at least 2 years of experience in a mental health facility. In addition, he may have a diploma from the American Board of Examiners in Professional Psychology and be licensed by the State in which he practices.

• Psychotherapists. The term "psychotherapy" describes what all mental health professionals do when they treat patients. Some people who call themselves psychotherapists do not have adequate training. If you doubt the credentials of a psychotherapist, check with his or her professional organization.

Let's Stay Well

Marriage — With Or Without Children

By F.J.L. Blassingame, M.D.

BLASSINGAME

Do children affect the success of a marriage?

The answer to this question is an individual matter and depends on the personal attitudes and values of the husband and wife.

If a couple find that they cannot have a child of their own because one of the marriage partners is sterile, the situation should be discussed between them openly and freely and perhaps with their physician. Adoption of one or more children may be feasible.

On the other hand, the couple may feel that they prefer not to cause a family, but to seek satisfaction from their own relationship, careers, friends and partners in childless unions are divisions.

The desire to raise a child—whether biological or adopted—should be given careful consideration. Parenthood is not for everybody. It involves costs and sacrifices, together with rewards. Rearing a family can be an enriching and fulfilling experience but is not without financial and emotional strains and demands. Nature apparently equips most of us with the capacity to care for our young, but some of us are more suited than others.

A survey recently published by researchers from the University of Michigan showed that happy in the majority of cases and not doomed to miserable, unfulfilled lives.

The principal advantage of a childfree marriage is that, if it fails to work out, it can be dissolved with minimal damage. Bringing children into the world to satisfy neurotic needs is unfortunate. Having a family can be one of life's greatest experiences when people have children for the right reasons.

Q. Mrs. O.A.B. would like to know why her elderly friend perspires excessively.

A. Such perspiring is often associated with weakness, and the weakness may be related to a chronic infection. Therefore, a search for the cause is indicated, especially if she is losing weight or running a low-grade fever. If it is found, appropriate treatment can then be directed at the infection. No other medication is particularly effective.

Q. Mrs. E.S. asks whether it is wise to tell a child ahead of time that he is going to get a shot at the doctor's office.

A. A child who is about to get a shot should be told in advance and that it will hurt. However, explain that the pain will be slight and brief. Be honest with the child so that he will learn to trust you. His fear will lessen by knowing what to expect.

From The Eye Of A Woman

By Patsy
Beauchamp

The MSU women's volleyball team hosted a triangular match Wednesday night with SIU and Austin Peay State University.

SIU claimed victories over both MSU and APSU to win the tri-match. SIU, ranked nationally last year, put down a late Murray rally to win 13-4, 16-14. MSU at one point was leading 14-5, but succumbed to the powerful SIU squad.

Austin Peay gave SIU little resistance as they fell 15-11, 15-4. Murray also had little trouble stopping Austin Peay 15-6, 15-9.

The volleyball team, coached by Connie Uralge, will be participating in the KWIC State Volleyball Tournament Nov. 14-15 at Morehead State University.

Posting a deceptive 10-12 won-lost record, the MSU squad will be playing defending state champs Morehead in the first round of competition.

The MSU squad has been described as a young, tall, inexperienced, yet talented group of players that like the Racer football team, can cause a major upset in any man's (or woman's) tournament.

Glenda Rudolph, Cindy Leimbach, Jackie Mounts, Gaye Estes, and Lee Stokely will be the starters in the first round of competition, with Judy Morton, Janet Compton, and Kim Young expected to see a lot of action. Coach Uralge will probably play without the services of mainstay Linda Rudolph because of an ankle injury.

Other schools that will be participating in the state competition are: Eastern Ky. University (No. 2 seeded team), University of Louisville, and University of Kentucky.

Just a short note to congratulate Coach Nita Head and her tennis team in their second place win at the state tourney.

Although several MSU players dropped some very close matches (I believe I used the word choke), it would have been considered an upset if they had won them.

The lady netters ended their fall season play with an excellent squad of players and the best thing about them is they are all young. Junior Judy Shirrell is the oldest member of the squad.

Number one singles player Karen Weis had a great fall season and is anticipating an even better spring season. Karen is on her way to becoming one of the best tennis players Murray has ever had.

Sindy and Sady Macovik, the No. 1 doubles duo, ended with a 13-1 regular season record, and they too, have only just begun.

Judy Shirrell, Linda Spellman, and Lynne Martin round out this strong MSU team, with Leann Owen and Margaret May ready to step in at any time.

The tennis team will enjoy a four month lay-off with matches beginning again next March.

Mid-Season And Chargers Yet To Obtain First Win Of Year

By GREG GROSS
AP Sports Writer

SAN DIEGO (AP) — This was supposed to be the year the San Diego Chargers started turning things around, to win more games than they lost for the first time in six years.

Don Woods was back to run the ball behind a powerful and veteran offensive line. Free agent wide receiver Dwight McDonald looked like the man to draw the double coverage away from Gary Garrison.

Seven talented defensive rookies seemed destined to lift the San Diego defense from the title it won last year — worst in the National Football League.

There was even some talk about edging into a wild-card playoff spot.

All that is dead now. For the Chargers, the numbers speak painfully for themselves: no wins, seven losses.

"I've made every effort I know," said second-year coach Tommy Prothro. "I don't know any other pitch to make. I'm not going to criticize the players publicly. I'll criticize them privately."

In seven games, the Chargers have surrendered 161 points and scored only 61. They have been shut out three times, once by the Pittsburgh Steelers and twice by the Oakland Raiders. They managed only 17 points against the reborn Houston Oilers. Against the Kansas City Chiefs and the Los Angeles Rams, they scored only 10 points.

Against the New York Giants last Saturday, the offense broke loose for 24 points. But the Giants pierced the Charger defense for 35.

"Tell me, are they beating us or are we beating ourselves?" fumed tight end Pat Curran, who answered his own question. "We keep beating ourselves. Nobody else is beating us."

The injury situation is critical. Woods, 1974's NFL Rookie of the Year, is out for the season with torn knee ligaments. Quarterback Dan Fouts has endured a sore ankle throughout the season and few other regulars are completely healthy.

"We seem to be snakebitten or something," said Garrison, a 10-year Charger veteran. "I don't think anybody can put their finger on what's happening."

That includes Prothro. "Maybe we'll simplify some things," said the coach. "Maybe we'll walk through more things on the field."

The sad showing is being felt at the box office. More than 52,000 fans are expected in San Diego Stadium on Saturday to watch unbeaten San Diego State play Arizona. The Chargers will be lucky to draw half that many the next day when they face the New England Patriots.

And the boos will be for the home team. After the Patriots, San Diego must play two games against the Denver Broncos and single contests with the Minnesota Vikings, the Jets, Cincinnati and Kansas City.

When it comes to salvaging seasons, the Chargers have a little history going for them. They were 1-6 at the halfway point in the season last year, but won four of the last seven games, including the last three.

Nevertheless, Prothro is already thinking in terms of 1976. "It's important to win some games this year to hold this thing together for next year," he said. "We've got some young players, and some older ones, too, who need to develop some confidence coming to camp next year."

Laker Boys And Girls To Play At Carlisle Jamboree Friday

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor

For movie critics, there are the sneak previews. And for basketball coaches, there are the basketball jamborees.

And that's where David King and David Lanier will get some idea of how their teams are doing thus far as both the Calloway County High School boys' and girls' cage teams will be playing in the Carlisle County jamboree Friday.

Each team will play one 12-minute game. And after that, it's either sit and wait confidently for the first regular season game or go back to the old drawing board.

The first contest Friday will be a girl's game with Lowes meeting Carlisle County, the latter being the top girl's team in the First Region. In the second game, the Laker boys will be meeting a rugged Paducah St. Mary team.

The third game of the jamboree will find the Laker girls playing St. Mary while in the final contest, Carlisle County and Lowes will square off in a boy's contest.

For the Laker boys, the problem this season is obvious. Who can replace 6-9 center James Wells? The answer is not obvious.

It appeared early this summer that Alvis Calhoun would be the starting center but he died following a tragic accident at his home. Then it appeared senior Greg Byers would be the starter but he had to have stomach surgery and it appears he won't be at full strength until after Christmas.

That leaves two seniors, York Stinson and Don McCuiston. Neither have varsity experience. McCuiston is 6-2 and Stinson is 6-0.

But after that, things look pretty good on the surface for Coach David King. He will return four starters and just might have the quickest team in the Region this year.

Back for the third year of varsity ball is 5-9 junior guard Tommy Futrell. Joining him in the backcourt is 5-10 senior stalwart David Williams. The forward posts will be held by 6-1 senior Fly Beane and 6-2 junior Mike Wells.

"We hope we can surprise some people," King said.

"But I certainly don't expect us to be rated in the top 10 early in the season. We are a team of guards. We have four starters who are really guards. Our bench strength is guards."

The main asset of the Lakers will be the speed and good shooting ability from the outside, a must for a small team. The Lakers will have all they can handle when they face the rugged St. Mary team Friday in the jamboree.

King rated the Vikings as the top team in the Region and it's easy to see why. Returning are senior workhorse Gene Roof along with guard Russ Cochran and high-scoring transfer Benjie Synboten from Reidland.

The Laker girls will also have the same problems and advantages the boys have. They will be small but exceptionally quick and have a team of good shooters. The entire first five is back from last season's 6-12 team.

"Last year, we were small and started two freshmen, two sophomores and a junior. This time, everyone is a year older so that should help. Plus we have some real good freshman kids who can help us out," Coach David Lanier said.

Returning are 5-2 senior guard Becky Imes, 5-2 sophomore guard Sue Imes, 5-6 sophomore center Felicia Pinner, 5-6 junior forward "Critic" McKenzie and 5-6 junior forward Marilyn McKenzie.

"We have 15 girls on the team and everyone of them can play. We will be a running and pressing team."

Lanier said he expected Carlisle County, Sedalia and Tighman to be the top girl's teams in the First Region.

Admission will be $1.50 for adults and one dollar for students. In addition, a chili supper will begin at 5 p. m. and continue throughout the games. All fans are invited to attend the supper.

A week from Friday, the Lakers will be going right back to Carlisle County as the boy's teams will open the season. The Laker girls open on November 13 with a home game against Fulton County.

Announce Tourney

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The Professional Bowlers Association has announced the scheduling of an $80,000 tournament at Toledo's Imperial Lanes, April 6-10, one of 16 on the PBA winter tour.

Imperial Lanes has held a PBA event each year since 1966. The first tournament had a total of $38,000 in prize money.

Defending Toledo champion Louie Moore of Columbus, Ohio, will be back, along with such established PBA stars as Earl Anthony, Dick Weber, Carmen Salvino, Don Johnson, Ed Reggler and Jim Stefanich.

Aeros Wanting To Find Spider That Bit Howe

HOUSTON (AP) — Mark Howe's Houston Aeros teammates are trying to find the spider that bit him recently.

"Hey, where can we find that spider," they teased Wednesday night after Mark scored three first period goals to ignite the Aeros to a 6-4 World Hockey Association victory over the Minnesota Fighting Saints.

It was Mark Howe's first action since missing five games and spending four days in a hospital because of the spider bite.

But he seemed to have lost little because of the absence, scoring his first goal after only nine seconds. He hit again at 4:54 and finished with a goal at 18:32 as the Aeros led 5-1 at the end of the period.

In the only other WHA game played, the Calgary Cowboys whipped the Quebec Nordiques 4-2.

"If you get down against this team it's really tough," Minnesota Coach Harry Neale said. "Houston played very good in the first period but we also played extremely bad. The first period was a disaster. We made two bad plays on their initial goals."

In addition to Mark Howe's three goals, Frank Hughes and Rich Preston each scored for Houston and Minnesota's John McKenzie scored his first of two goals at 7:46 of the opening period.

It was a different game in the second period and resulted in a record 16 penalties called for both teams. That was the most penalties called against both clubs in one period for the Aeros.

They included four major fighting penalties and a game misconduct against Minnesota's Henry Boucha.

Minnesota managed to take some advantage of the confusion with goals by Mike Antonovich and Paul Holmgren but Gordie Howe broke their momentum with his second goal of the season at 14:06.

The game was the Aeros' first in their new home, The Summit, and a home record of 12,063 fans watched.

Cowboys 4, Nordiques 2

Rick Sentes' first goal of the game, at 6:59 of the third period, snapped a 1-1 tie but Chris Bordeleau scored for the Nordiques 1½ minutes later to even the game. Terry Caffery scored his first goal of the season, at 10:14, to give the Cowboys a lead they never lost. Sentes provided some insurance, connecting at 11:25 to complete the scoring.

Over 26,000 Watch Maravich And Jazz Win Sixth Straight

By BOB GREENE
AP Sports Writer

All that great New Orleans Jazz these days is not being played on Bourbon Street or in Preservation Hall.

With a National Basketball Association record crowd of 26,511 cheering them on, the Pete Maravich-led Jazz won their sixth straight game by nipping the Los Angeles Lakers 113-110 Wednesday.

"The crowd was just fantastic and I had a feeling that our team wanted to play well for this one," said Jazz Coach Bill van Breda Kolff. "But we didn't play as well as we can."

In other NBA games Wednesday night, Boston defeated Buffalo 105-95, Detroit toppled Seattle 124-107 and Philadelphia crushed Chicago 115-82.

Jazz 113, Lakers 110

With Maravich pouring in 30 points, New Orleans ran its record to 6-1, best in the NBA. The Jazz controlled the backboards behind Otto Moore, and Moore teamed with Mel Counts to hold Kareem Abdul-Jabbar to just 11 field goals in 28 attempts.

"Otto Moore has been playing great and I thought he played as well as he can tonight and that's all you can ask," van Breda Kolff said.

Lakers Coach Bill Sharman said four quick fouls called on Abdul-Jabbar slowed down the 7-foot-4 center, who wound up 25 points and 24 rebounds. Lucius Allen paced the Lakers with 23 points.

"You have to give a lot of credit to van Breda Kolff and Elgin Baylor for their coaching job," Sharman said.

Celtics 105, Braves 95
Paul Silas scored 13 points in the third period, including 10 straight to end the quarter, as Boston downed Buffalo.

"They tried to gamble his man on other people," Celtics Coach Tom Heinsohn said of Silas. "So we just kept giving him the ball."

JoJo White finished with 22 points for Boston while Cowens added 21, Charlie Scott 16 and Silas 15. Bob McAdoo, the league's leading scorer, paced Buffalo with 25 before fouling out in the final period.

Tigers Need Win Over Todd To Finish With Break-Even Year

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor

If two 9-0 football teams were playing in the final game of the season, odds are you couldn't find an available seat.

But when the two teams are 4-5 and playing in the last game of the year, you could probably arrive 30 minutes late and still find a prime parking spot. That's the way it goes when you have a season that on paper, doesn't look too great.

And that's probably the way it will be Friday in Holland Stadium as the Murray High Tigers host Todd Central in a 7:30 p.m. contest that will close the campaign for both teams.

"If it's a nice night out, we'd like to have a big crowd from Murray just to show the kids the people are still behind them," Tiger Coach John Hina said.

There's no reason the Tigers shouldn't have a big crowd to watch them play. There isn't a team in western Kentucky that has been playing better ball in the past few weeks.

The defensive unit has jelled into a solid, hard-nosed outfit and the offense has been looking better with each game. But, the only consolation for the Tigers will be to finish with a 5-5 season.

Todd Central, like Murray, is a much better club than its record shows. Last week, the Rebels blasted Trigg County 47-16.

"With 10 minutes left, it was 47-0 and we left when Todd put in their second string. You look at their record and think maybe they aren't so tough but yet when you see them play, you just can't figure out how they've lost."

The Rebels have one of the finest runningbacks in the Jackson Purchase in the person of Troy Snardon. Last year, he was selected to the All-WKC Team.

"We're gonna have to keep the ball away from Todd Central and score every time we touch it," Hina said.

"They have one heck of a player in Snardon plus some other good folks that have been overlooked. They have the incentive we cheated them out of the District last year because of the Dickinson System."

Todd rolled up a 9-0-2 record last season but lost the District title because of the system. Then, of course, Murray went on to claim the State Class A Championship.

This week has been "Senior Leadership Week" at Murray High.

"We've been calling on our seniors all week in practice to give us the leadership and we've really had a good week."

Murray has 13 seniors who will be playing their last contest. Included are Tony Boone, Tony Thurmond, Lindy Suter, Keith Tabers, Kenny Adams, Mike Stephenson, Bo McDougal, Pat McMillen, Todd Harrison, Robbie Hibbard, Paul Robertson, David Noffsinger and Sam Chadwick.

In addition, senior manager Greg Thompson will be performing his duties for the final time.

"Greg is probably one of the most involved and emotional kids, as far as Murray High football goes, that I have ever worked with," Hina said.

"Last year after we won the state tournament, he had to go to the hospital because he developed ulcers. When we win, he enjoys it as much as anyone and when we lose, he hurts just as much as anyone," Hina said, in praising Thompson.

Also appearing for the final time will be six varsity cheerleaders. They include Linda Ransom, Allyson Holt, Becky Gould, Cindy Gould, Beverly Barnett and Karen Allbritten.

Sabres Blank Bruins And Penguins Get Win

By The Associated Press
Bobby Orr is a defenseman but what the Boston Bruins are missing is his offense.

It was pointed out, once again, Wednesday night, when Buffalo held the once-powerful Bruins to 16 shots and goalie Gerry Desjardins recorded his first shutout in over six years in the Sabres' 4-0 National Hockey League victory.

With Orr out of the lineup with a bum knee, the Bruins' opponents have been able to concentrate on Boston's other major scoring threat, Phil Esposito.

The result is a feeble Boston attack, which has netted just 37 goals, three more than California in the Adams Division. The Bruins, in third place, now trail first-place Buffalo by nine points.

Penguins 7, Islanders 6

Two first-period goals by Lowell McDonald and another by Bob Kelly triggered the Pittsburgh to a 6-2 lead midway through the second and the Penguins held off a furious Islanders rally.

Harvey Bennett scored the Penguins' seventh goal, early in the third period.

Canadiens 3, Flames 1
Steve Shutt scored a pair of goals, including one in the second period on a breakaway that snapped a 1-1 tie, to trigger Montreal past Atlanta.

Scouts 3, Seals 2

The Scouts ended a five-game losing streak with Randy Rota's winning goal with 3:21 left in the third period.

Flyers 4, Black Hawks 4, tie
Grant Mulvey's second goal in the third period, with less than five minutes remaining, completed a Chicago comeback and enabled the Black Hawks to tie Philadelphia.

Kings 3, Capitals 1

Mike Murphy's goal snapped a 1-1 tie in the second period and Marcel Dionne added the insurance with his 11th goal of the season as Los Angeles, in first place in the Norris Division, beat the last-place club, Washington.

Maple Leafs 7, Red Wings 3
Don Ashby, Stan Weir and Blaine Stoughton scored goals in a 2:16 span of the second period, while Detroit's Dan Maloney was serving a major penalty, sparking Toronto's victory.

Blues 4, North Stars 1
Gilles Gratton, making his first NHL start after three years in the World Hockey Association, stopped 28 shots, including four by his brother Norm in St. Louis' victory over Minnesota.

WFL Players Have 20 Days To Get New Home

by FRED ROTHENBERG
AP Sports Writer

A federal judge laid down the law but the National Football League owners still appear to be playing by Commissioner Pete Rozelle's rules, as the latest judicial decision struck a blow for freedom for the out-of-work players of the World Football League.

"Professional sports and the public are better served by open, unfettered competition," U.S. District Judge Edward J. Devitt said Wednesday in St. Paul, Minn., in issuing a temporary injunction paving the way for WFL players to sign with the NFL.

Rozelle had issued an edict forbidding players from signing with NFL teams for the remainder of the current season but Devitt said Rozelle's ban was a "conspiracy" or "concerted boycott" against the WFL players' "freedom of contract, adding that there was a 'substantial showing they will suffer irreparable harm' if they are not allowed to compete for jobs in the NFL this season.

However, Rozelle said WFL players signing in his league must prove they are free of previous contractual obligations, and it appears that the NFL owners are looking to the commissioner for guidance before they begin stalking WFL talent.

For example, a spokesman for the Philadelphia Eagles said he couldn't comment on what his club intended to do about the available WFL players because he hasn't received any instructions from the league office, adding that before Rozelle's moratorium the Eagles were interested in several players from the other league.

In Denver, a Broncos spokesman said his club was looking for "further definitive action" to see what the status of the WFL players is. The spokesman said the Broncos would be interested in talking to Steve Foley, the former Tulane quarterback who was playing his rookie year with Jacksonville before the WFL folded last month.

Then there is the case of Dave Roller, who signed a contract with the Green Bay Packers two hours before Rozelle barred WFL players from joining NFL teams.

The Packers said they also were waiting further word from the NFL offices on whether the NFL decision would permit them to add Roller to their roster.

Roller, contacted at his home in Anaheim, Calif., where he has been since Rozelle stripped him of his Packers uniform, said he was tired of having to wait for Rozelle's rules.

"I've been told to low key everything and I'm sick of it," said Roller, the only WFL player to sign a NFL contract between the period of the WFL's death and Rozelle's edict. "It's going to bother me the rest of my life."

"Here a guy states arbitrarily that I can't work at my livelihood. It cost me three weeks of games and practices I could have proven myself. It seems un-American."

"Why they didn't let me play in Green Bay I'll never know," Roller said. "I never heard from the league office explaining why."

Rozelle, who testified Wednesday during the three-hour hearing, said, a rationale behind his edict was that he

Bobby Warren Scores 22 As Sails Fly High Over Squires

By The Associated Press

If Indiana's Billy Knight felt like he was being guarded by 10 players, he might not have been far wrong.

"The reason we were able to stop Knight this time was that we put a lot of different players on him," said New York Nets Coach Kevin Loughery.

Julius Erving's 36 points didn't hurt, either, as the Nets posted a 119-102 victory over the Indiana Pacers Wednesday night.

In other American Basketball Association games Wednesday, San Diego stopped Virginia 118-104, Denver crushed St. Louis 111-88 and San Antonio defeated Utah 121-117.

Nets 119, Pacers 102

"I felt in the first game when Knight scored 43 points we overplayed him," Loughery said. "We have a very physical team this year. That's the reason I made the trades in acquiring Swen Nater and Rich Jones from the San Antonio Spurs."

When the Pacers narrowed New York's lead to three points, 97-94, midway through the fourth period, Erving scored 10 points as the Nets spurred back to a 13-point advantage. Guard Billy Keller paced Indiana with 31 points while Knight, the ABA's top scorer going into the game, was held to 16 points, only two coming in the second half.

Sails 118, Squires 104
Bob Warren's 22 points paced a balanced scoring attack as San Diego handed Virginia its seventh loss in eight games and ruined the debut of interim Coach Mack Calvin. The Squires' defeat came despite a 40-point performance by rookie guard Luther "Ticky" Burden, including 20 points in the fourth period.

Spurs 121, Stars 117
James Silas, Billy Paulitz and Larry Kenon combined for 80 points to lead San Antonio and hand the Utah Stars their fourth consecutive defeat. Down by 10 points after the opening period, the Spurs outscored Utah 36-21 in the second quarter to take a 63-58 halftime advantage. The victory gives the Spurs a 4-3 record while Utah dropped to 1-6. Silas paced the victory with 28 points.

Nuggets 111, Spirits 98
Denver, behind Dan Issel's 33 points, moved into a first-place tie with the Indiana Pacers in the Western Division by dropping St. Louis. The loss snapped the Spirits' five-game winning streak. St. Louis' Marvin Barnes scored 30 points and grabbed 10 rebounds. Denver's Bobby Joes pulled down 18 rebound, hnded out nine assists and blocked seven shots.

Tar, Nicotine Ratings Given For 135 Varieties Of Cigarette Brands

WASHINGTON (AP) — Carlton and King Sano offer the lowest levels of tar and nicotine among 135 varieties of domestically available cigarettes while Players and king-size English Ovals have the worst ratings, according to the latest tests by the Federal Trade Commission.

The commission's semi-annual report, released today, was based on random samples of all domestic brands. The cigarettes tested were purchased in most cases at 50 locations around the country between March and May.

The ratings champion was the filtered, regular-size Carlton with 2 milligrams of "tar" — or dry particulate matter — per cigarette and .2 milligrams of nicotine. The report noted, however, that the regular-size Carlton was not available in all markets.

The more widely sold Carlton filter kings, either regular or menthol, came in second on the list with 4 mg. tar and .3 mg. nicotine, followed by filtered King Sano with 7 mg. tar and .3 mg. of nicotine.

At the other end of the scale were Players, highest in tar with 31 mg. per cigarette and English Ovals, worst in nicotine with 2.3 mg.

Though there were minor variations here and there, the new tests showed essentially the same results as those conducted earlier. There were no dramatic changes for any brand. One earlier co-leader, Marvel filters, dropped from the market, according to the report.

Here are the latest ratings, based on the order of tar values. The order would vary somewhat if listed by nicotine value, which is the second figure. All are filter brands, unless otherwise noted.

1. Carlton 70s regular, 2 mg. tar, .2 nicotine
2. Carlton king menthol 4 and 13
3. Carlton king 4 and 13
4. King Sano menthol 7 and 13
5. King Sano 7 and 13
6. Iceberg 100 mm. menthol 9 and 13
7. Benson and Hedges regular 9 and 13

TVA Acquires Reserve Coal In Western State

MORGANFIELD, Ky. (AP) — The Tennessee Valley Authority, bracing for a return of high coal prices, has acquired some 74 million tons of "reserve" coal in Western Kentucky.

John Lyon, a Knoxville, Tenn., public information official for TVA, said Wednesday the agency is trying to hold its electricity prices down by obtaining coal it can mine for less than it would cost on the spot market.

Lyon said the new reserves lie under 6,000 acres adjoining the old Camp Breckinridge property in northeastern Union County.

He said the mine, in the "Waverly Coal Block," is expected to produce about 35 million tons of coal over 25 years.

By paying the Peabody Coal Co. the cost of mining plus a management fee of about 80 cents a ton, and will pay a royalty of at least 50 cents a ton to the landowners, who were not identified.

Lyon said a lease for a minimum of 20 years was negotiated with James Williams of Evansville, Ind., who represented the landowners.

TVA estimated in 1974 that such an arrangement would allow it to obtain coal for $12.05 a ton. At that time, coal was selling on the open market for up to $50 a ton.

Spot market prices have dropped to $10 to $15 a ton, but TVA authorities have said they are preparing for another rise.

TVA receives some 6 million tons of coal annually from producers mining TVA-owned reserves in Western Kentucky and Eastern Tennessee.

The authority's 12 steam generating plants, including the Shawnee Steam plant near Paducah and the Paradise Steam Plant near Central City, use 35 to 40 million tons of coal a year, about 26 million tons of it from the Western Kentucky coalfields.

Ingredients For Investment

Housing prices have gone up steeply since the mid-60's for two basic reasons. First, the shortage of new savings made it difficult to finance private housing, and the number of new housing units built each year was far below that what it should have been. Since there is a steady growth in population, this puts pressure on our housing reserves and prices rise.

Second, there have been inflationary increases in the labor and materials costs that go into building a house. In most urban areas, land values continue to go up each year, too. (Our tax system encourages speculation in unimproved land which helps raise the price.) So here are the ready-made ingredients for a good investment. We all need housing of some kind, and according to the experts, the price of housing will continue to go even higher, though perhaps, not as dramatically as in the past few years.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at PURDUM & THURMAN REAL ESTATE, 407 Maple St., Murray. Phone: 753-4451. We're here to help!

West Virginia Tech Choir To Present Concert Here

MONTGOMERY—One of the most outstanding collegiate choirs in the nation, the West Virginia Tech Concert Choir will visit Murray State University for a concert on November 8. Their performance is scheduled at the Doyle Fine Arts Center in Recital Hall A, beginning at 8 p.m.

The West Virginia group, directed by Guy Owen Baker, will perform in Murray as part of a fall tour covering four states, including Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, and West Virginia. Also scheduled to appear are the Tech Singers, who have been called "West Virginia's Artists in Residence" by Gov. Arch A. Moore, Jr.

They have appeared at such nationally famous hotels as the Greenbrier in White Sulphur Springs, the Shores in Washington, D.C., the Breakers in West Palm Beach, Fla., and the Fontainebleau in Miami.

Although the Tech Singers are equally at home in pops, contemporary, and sacred music, show biz is really their forte, says Baker. To enhance the group's excellent vocal performance, the Singers wear a variety of costumes, each depending upon the song being rendered. To complement a wide variety of music, including sacred, jazz, rock, Latin and South American, country and western, or show tunes, the Tech Singers, comprised of 24 singers and four instrumentalists, effect costume changes as their music changes.

Accompanied by the usual guitar, bass, piano, and drums, the Tech Singers are each vocal soloists. Their director, Guy Owen Baker, is currently director of choral music at West Virginia Tech and minister of music at the First Presbyterian Church, Oak Hill. His musical career has been divided among the concert and open stage, the church, and the field of education.

Baker's professional activities have made him much in demand as a choral clinician, vocal workshop resource person, and director of choral festivals throughout the United States.

Teamsters Union Cancels Pacts With AFL-CIO Over Meany Remarks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Angered over comments by George Meany, the Teamsters union has canceled agreements with AFL-CIO unions to honor each other's strikes and jurisdictional lines, raising the possibility of interunion battles.

In a continuation of a lengthy, bitter dispute over representation of California farm workers, Meany, the AFL-CIO's president, denounced the Teamsters last month as unworthy of being called trade unionists.

The Teamsters retaliated by revoking long-standing mutual aid and no-raiding agreements which it held with 22 AFL-CIO unions.

"This is done reluctantly," Teamsters President Frank E. Fitzsimmons notified AFL-CIO union leaders in letters dated Oct. 24. He added that he was particularly annoyed by their silence following Meany's remark, indicating they agreed with what Meany said.

The Teamsters, the nation's biggest union with more than two million members, has the resources to take on almost any other union in the country. But since it was expelled from the AFL-CIO in 1957 over corruption charges, it generally has avoided raiding other unions.

Although cancellation of the pacts opens the risk of jurisdictional raids and picket line warfare, Teamsters and AFL-CIO officials question whether the latest flare-up will become that serious. They noted these agreements were carried out primarily at the local level and predicted they were likely to still be honored informally in most cases.

"There's obviously a good deal of Teamsters all over the country who are good union people and don't cross anybody's picket line," said one AFL-CIO official. A Teamsters official noted there was no "directive in Fitzsimmons' letter for the locals to go out and start raiding."

An official of the Retail Clerks union, representing many supermarket employees, also expressed doubt the local arrangements would be broken. However, he warned that "if they are violated and the Teamsters believe they can raid with impunity, they are wrong."

Nevertheless, the Meany-Fitzsimmons feud has caught many AFL-CIO union chiefs in the middle of an explosive situation. These leaders owe allegiance to Meany but depend on Teamster support to strengthen their economic position during a strike.

Fitzsimmons threatened to revoke the agreements earlier when Meany called on AFL-CIO affiliates to support a boycott of lettuce and table grapes not picked by Cesar Chavez' United Farm Workers. At the time, Chavez was battling for survival against the Teamsters.

Last month, with Chavez and the Teamsters competing for contracts under California's new farm labor law, Meany charged at the AFL-CIO's national convention that Teamsters still were working in collusion with growers.

Tunick Represents State At Session

Dr. Roy Tunick, coordinator of the Rehabilitation Services Training Program at Murray State University, recently represented Kentucky at a three-day Facilitative Case Management training session in Atlanta, Ga.

Nominated by the Bureau of Rehabilitation Services of the Kentucky Department of Education to attend the training program, Tunick was awarded a traineeship through the University of Tennessee Rehabilitation Continuing Education Program.

He, along with other rehabilitation counselor educators and representatives of state vocational rehabilitation agencies, received training designed to facilitate the effective delivery of rehabilitation services to serve the "whole person" without violating individual dignity or independence.

Tunick said the training program conducted by the University of Arkansas Rehabilitation Research and Training Center was devised to prepare rehabilitation counselor educators to return to their home states to conduct similar training sessions there.

Tunick has been a member of the faculty at Murray State since 1974.
